The A grade boys have a bit of work to do this week coming off back to back losses. They will need to dig deep as they go up against premiership favourites Jervois who are trying to make it 11 straight wins and really cement that top spot; I wouldn't write off Scott and the boys though, who will thrive in the wet and cold conditions that Saturday will throw at them. The Reserves have been working hard and playing great footy. With just 5 games remaining this season the 2s are still in the running to get that all important second chance slot in the finals series. Expect a big effort from both sides today as we look down the back straight of the season and get our eyes firmly set on finals footy.

Netball News

Today we welcome Jervois to our courts for a good day of netball. Be sure to head over to the courts when you can to see some of the great quality skills that our Blue girls are displaying out on court.

Some of the highly anticipated games to be played today are in the 15&U Division 1 who play at 10.15am; last time Jervois got the upper hand but we are backing our girls to get back on top today so be sure to head over and cheer them on. The 15&U Division 2 match playing at 9am is another we are expecting to see as a great tussle with Imperials sitting second and Jervois third on the ladder lets cheer on our girls.

It is great to see some of our younger umpires that are working with Bev Dalwood in the Green Shirt Program umpiring matches on Saturdays. They are all doing a fantastic job, if you see any of our green shirt girls be sure to go up to them and give them some encouragement – they are doing a great thing.

We are sad to hear the news that A Reserve player Jess Barolo has ruptured her ACL in the match against Mannum on the weekend. The whole club is behind you Jess and we are all wishing you a speedy recovery.

Let's all head out and have a great day of netball.

Let's go you Blues!!
